INTRODUCTION

In 1956, Mitro Jurchisin started researching names as a hobby. After 20 years, his efforts have resulted in a unique catalog. He has cataloged the names of people born in the Carpathian Mountains area of Central Europe who were immigrants to Minneapolis, Minnesota, particularly to the area served by St. Mary's Russian Orthodox Church.

Besides his native village of Becherov, Czechoslovakia, Mr. Jurchisin has researched more than two dozen additional towns and villages of the same area. Included in the list are such village names as Stebnik, Komlosa, and Redetivka, all familiar to parishioners of St. Mary's. His research has even extended to towns in Galicia and Russia.

For every village he has documented:

1. Men who married women from the same village
2. Men who married women from a different village
3. Women who married men from a different village

The names of men and women who either remained single or who married people not from their native country are also included.

Mr. Jurchisin has received a letter of commendation from Lynn Tascano, Interim Curator of Library and Archives at the University of Minnesota Immigration and History Research Center. The letter acknowledges the tremendous scope of his research.

Copies of this manuscript will be on file at the Research Center Library and at the Minnesota Historical Society and will be useful not only for geneologists but also for researchers doing demographic studies.

The immigrations mentioned in this manuscript cover the period from the 1880's when the first settlers came to Minneapolis up to 1946-47.

THIS MANUSCRIPT HAS BEEN PRINTED JUST AS IT WAS PREPARED BY MR. JURCHISIN. NAMES ARE SPELLED JUST AS THEY WERE KNOWN TO HIM IN HIS NATIVE VILLAGE.

Some of the spelling variations have been listed for clarification.

Mitro Jurchisin was born in the village of Becherov, Czechoslovakia on September 26, 1901. He left his native village on December 2, 1920, and arrived in Minneapolis, Minnesota on January 3, 1921. He has resided in Northeast Minneapolis continuously since that date. In his own words, Mr. Jurchisin tells how a thought developed into a labor of love which resulted in a compilation of geneological data that would otherwise have gone unrecorded.

"In 1956, I started to think about how many people in St. Mary's Parish from my home village of Becherov, were dying, and I thought: unless somebody writes down their names, they will be forgotten. In my job as inspector at the Soo Line Railroad, I sometimes had waiting time between inspections. In those times, I started to write down these people's names.

I started first with the men and then I realized that I knew the women only by their married names. I knew almost everyone from the villages who now lived in Minneapolis, so I asked each man what his wife's first name was and also her last name before she was married. In this way I got the names of almost every villager.

I spent a lot of time for more than 20 years getting this information, not just about people from Becherov, but also from other villages in that part of Czechoslovakia. I hope it will be interesting to parishioners of St. Mary's."
